FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Naperville, IL – ISP Painting, Inc. is committed to protect its employees from occupational hazards by promoting effective safety and health management as the best means of ensuring a safe and healthful work place. Wherever applicable, ISP follows the regulations and guidelines set forth by the Occupational Safety and Health Act of January 26, 1989.

To this end, the company has put in place an internet-based safety training, record-keeping and management system customized for ISP Painting, Inc. There are currently thirty (30) selected safety topics available to ISP employees and partners. Each topic offers computer based training (CBT) modules that offer a bilingual/Spanish option, built-in randomized quizzes, training certificates, and automatic record-keeping. Once employees and partners complete their assigned modules, they are deemed OSHA- compliant for one year.

About OSHA:

The United States Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) is an agency of the United States Department of Labor. It was created by Congress of the United States under the Occupational Safety and Health Act, signed by President Richard M. Nixon, on December 29, 1970. Its mission is to prevent work-related injuries, illnesses, and occupational fatality by issuing and enforcing rules called standards for workplace safety and health.
